

New Marske Gurney Street Primitive Methodist Chapel Redcar and Cleveland (North Yorkshire previously)

It can be seen on the OS Maps 1893, 1913, 1927

It was built where the bungalows numbers 25 and 27 Gurney Street are now.

'The brick Primitive Methodist Chapel was built in 1874. It was closed and abandoned in 1932.'
Found this information on the net. Plus the poem, below.

The Old Chapel at New Marske

Ruined it stands and the moonlight gleams,
Through its gaping windows and broken beams;
To some it is just a jackdaw's abode,
But to others 'tis still the House of God.
And from my window I often gaze,
And my mind goes back to bygone days.
